LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS ENTERTAIN GRAMMAR SCHOOL GRADUATES OF NEAR-BY CITIES

Under the direction of Superintendent of Schools Lewis E. Adams, South San Francisco students of the high and grammar grades on Friday last were hostesses to a gathering of eighth grade students from adjoining cities. A holiday was declared and interesting social and athletic events programmed for the visitors, created an excellent impression upon the visitors, who enjoyed every minute of their stay. The affair was planned to attract the eighth grade graduates of near-by cities to the local high school, with the intention of enlarging the attendance during the coming school year.

All Participate

The sophomore class, proudly displaying their numerals '21, which made their appearance throughout the city last week, was the reception committee which greeted the visitors at the incoming trains. Noon luncheon was served by the freshman class, while the afternoon's entertainment was under the supervision of the juniors.

A particularly attractive playlet, written by Miss Ross, teacher of Spanish, was presented in that language by the Spanish class. Several Spanish songs were also sung.

The sophomore "Intelligence" made its appearance on Friday. About one hundred copies were distributed. The greatest interest centered around the track meet, which was planned by Mr. Adams, in which the entries were confined to the eighth grade students of the local and visiting schools. Following is the athletic program:

50-yard preliminary race—Winner, Thomas Doak, South S. F.; second place, Ralph Holliday, San Bruno; third place, Elmer Vaccari, South S. F.

50-yard final—Winner, Elmer Vaccari, South S. F.; second place, Arthur Land, Daly City; third place, Ralph Holliday, San Bruno.

The citizens of South San Francisco justified their claim to progressiveness and signified their intention of maintaining civic progress by an affirmative vote of practically four to one, favoring every bond issue at the election held here on Tuesday.

The vote was well up to the average for an election of this character, 440 ballots having been cast by the electors.

The fire alarm system received the heaviest support, a total of 369 affirmative votes being cast in both precincts, as against 64 in the negative. The sewer bonds received the next heaviest approval with a total of 343 favorable ballots, against 91 negatives, while the votes cast for the construction of the city hall and beautifying of the civic center were 341 in favor and 94 against.

A survey of the final tabulation of votes developed unlooked-for results. The political prophets anticipated that the averages of the affirmative votes in Precinct 2, the Fraternal Hall, would be far in excess of those in the First Precinct, while just the opposite was shown by the tabulation.

The election was exceedingly quiet and there was little discussion of the issues among the voters en route to the polls.

Work will commence on the building of the city hall, installation of the Gamewell fire alarm system and construction of the sewers within ninety days, this period of time being necessary for the sale of the bonds and publication of legal notices in connection with the work.

Following are the bond issues carried at the election:

Proposition No. 1.
The proposition to incur a bonded indebtedness of $84,000.00 in Gold Coin of the United States of America for the object and purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing by the City of South San Francisco, a municipal corporation, a city hall and the grading of the Civic Center site in said City.

Proposition No. 2.
The proposition to incur a bonded indebtedness of $35,000.00 in Gold Coin of the United States of America for the object and purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing by the City of South San Francisco, a municipal corporation, a system of sewers for that portion of said City lying on the easterly side of the westerly boundary line of San Bruno Road.

Proposition No. 3.
The proposition to incur a bonded indebtedness of $10,000.00 in Gold Coin of the United States of America for the object and purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing a system of fire alarm telegraph apparatus.

SAN FRANCISCO SUPERVISORS FAVOR ITS LOCATION AT HUNTERS POINT; ASK AID OF CONGRESS.

In a resolution adopted by the Board of Supervisors of San Francisco, that body has renewed its activity in the presentation of the merits of Hunters Point as a naval base. The Supervisors of San Francisco have conducted a determined campaign for the securing of the naval base for the San Francisco side of the bay, and Hunters Point has been selected as its point of location.

The resolution was presented by Supervisor Richard J. Welch, former Harbor Commissioner, who is a strong champion of the development of San Francisco's peninsula water front.

Welch declared that the Secretary of the Navy will ask for an appropriation for the naval base in the next budget, and that anticipatory to this request additional arguments and information have been collected since the hearing before the Helm Commission.

The resolution, as presented by Welch and adopted by the board, concludes:

"Resolved, That the commercial development committee is hereby directed to request the co-operation of members of Congress from San Francisco in procuring the recommendation for an appropriation for the location of the proposed naval base at Hunters Point, San Francisco county; further

"Resolved, That the commercial development committee request through Congressman Nolan, the Secretary of the Navy to permit the filing of additional data concerning the advantages and economy of the Hunters Point site."

FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED TO THREE SMALL FIRES

Three small fires were extinguished by the fire department this past week. A small grass fire which broke out on Saturday in the vacant lot on San Bruno road adjoining the Capitol Hotel was quickly extinguished.

On Wednesday at 4 p. m. sparks from the sawdust incinerator at the South City Lumber and Supply Company started a blaze in a near-by pile of lumber. The loss was slight, as the blaze was quickly gotten under control.

On Thursday a grass fire in the vacant lot adjoining the De Long Hotel on San Bruno road brought out the fire department. Under the supervision of Fire Chief Truax the blaze was extinguished.

T. C. M'GOVERN WEDS

T. C. ("Brick") McGovern, Deputy Sheriff in the office of Sheriff Sheehan and brother of Dr. J. C. McGovern of this city, on Thursday in an interview with a representative of The Enterprise admitted to the truth of a rumor of his marriage which reached this office. Miss Hilda E. Ashland of San Francisco is now Mrs. McGovern, the wedding having been quietly solemnized at Santa Cruz several months ago. The newlyweds will make their home in Redwood City in the near future, and the groom, who is a popular favorite throughout the county, will undoubtedly be showered with congratulations. His hosts of friends will be anxious to meet the bride and welcome her to her new home in San Mateo county.

STEEL WORKERS' CLUB CLOSES ITS DOORS

Abandonment of the Social Organization Was Decided on at a Recent Meeting of Directors.

Discontinuance of the further operation of the Steel Workers' Club was decided on at a recent meeting of the directors, and the large and splendid hall has been abandoned by the organization.

Arrangements have already been made for the occupancy of the rear rooms, formerly the parlor and game rooms of the club.

While no definite plans have been made by W. J. Martin, owner of the building, for the rental of the hall, serious consideration is being given to converting it into a dance hall. The only expense incidental to this arrangement would be the laying of a maple floor.

PADEN BRICKYARD PROPERTY SOLD.

The former site of the Paden Brickyard has been disposed of to a large industry. Details of the transaction, which involves twenty-two acres, are temporarily withheld, but the closing of the deal transferring the property has been fully confirmed by W. J. Martin, manager of the Land Company.

E. C. PAGE CONTRACTS CASE OF SMALLPOX

E. C. Page, until recently a shearman at the Pacific Coast Steel Mill, on Wednesday was taken to the county farm for isolation, suffering with smallpox. The case is not malignant and little concern is felt for his complete recovery.

BANKER UP IN AIR

W. H. Coffinberry, president of the Bank of South San Francisco, enjoyed the unique experience of an aeroplane ride while attending the California Bankers' Convention at Catalina.

The word enjoyed is used advisedly in describing Coffinberry's aerial tour, for he declares the sensation of soaring about above terra firma was enjoyable in every respect.

An altitude of 4300 feet was made on the journey to the clouds; the route lay over the cities of Los Angeles and Venice and vicinity, and 28 minutes were consumed in making the trip.

Banking on the turns, when the machine tipped sideways at a smart angle, and volplaning to the landing ground, when the earth seemed to be rushing up to meet the flying machine, were described by the banker as the most thrilling parts of the journey. The trip was taken in an aeroplane driven by a Los Angeles aviator.

MASTER REFINING COMPANY SECURE RIGHT OF WAY

Permits for the Pacific Gas and Electric high-tension lines have been secured by the Master Refining Company, one of the industries recently acquired by this city, but some difficulty in securing spur track facilities is impeding the commencement of operations. It is expected that the plant will be in full operation within six weeks.

CHILDREN'S WELFARE CONFERENCE THEME

Noted Foreigners at Washington
Favor Legislative Protection for Future Citizens.

(Contributed by the San Mateo County
Conference of Social Agencies.)

At the Children's Bureau Conference on Child Welfare Standards, held in Washington, May 5-8, two themes were closely interwoven—the necessity for more public effort in behalf of children and the expenditure of that effort in the light of the individual characteristics of each child and his family. Whatever the phase of the child's well-being that was under discussion, it frankly demanded or bodily presupposed, public provision of instruction, service, money, equipment or legislative protection. The Americans were aided and abetted in their child welfare designs on the public treasury by the foreign visitors, particularly the British, who told of the substantial "grants in aid" which their government is making for child welfare activity in the British Isles.

The conference came as the first of a series in the cities throughout the United States, with which Children's Year will close. Its aim was to formulate the kind of standards that are fairly satisfactory starting points, not the kind that can be regarded as ultimate goals. Julia C. Lathrop and her colleagues opened the conference by announcing that they were seeking light on what is reasonable and practicable and can be undertaken and attained within a comparatively near future. They wanted the irreducibly minimum standards; the higher ones, they thought, could be left quite safely to the future if once we had settled upon some real points of departure. In the main, the discussions kept to that program, but every once in a while the ebullient spirit of the conference would get the better of them and their other ideals would break through.

The folk from abroad were helpful in counsel, inspiring, practical and certainly the most delightful of guests. Sir Arthur Newsholme, one of the world's authorities on vital statistics and a veteran champion of measures to improve the health of mothers and children; plucky little Eleanor Barton of the Woman's Co-operative Guild of Great Britain, with a membership of 31,658 working-class married women who know what they want and insist upon their government furnishing it; Dr. Tene Sand of the University of Brussels, such a representative as will make Belgium even more loved here; Dr. Clotilde Mulon of France, who had charge of the day nurseries established in the French munitions factories by the government, and is one of the ten women given the status of medical major of the second rank in the French army; Takayuki Namaye, representing the Japanese governmental department in charge of child welfare; Fabio Frassetto, a professor of anthropology from Italy; Mlle. L. E. Carter, principal of a girls' school in Brussels; R. C. Davidson, director of juvenile labor exchanges in England; Sir Cyril Jackson of the British Ministry of Labor; Dr. Radmila Lazarevitch Milochevitch, wife of the secretary of the Serbian legation in Washington—all brought valuable information about their respective countries and a refreshing outside point of view on American problems.

Besides the foreign guests, there were some two hundred Americans. In addition to the faces familiar in child welfare sections of the National Conference of Social Work—mainly professional social workers—there were many pediatricians, obstetricians, psychiatrists and other medical specialists, public health nurses, a few economists, judges, clubwomen and citizens interested generally. A few school people were also in attendance.

The discussions centered about four main topics: protection of the health of mothers and children, the economic and social basis for child welfare standards, child labor and children in need of special care. While the papers abounded in facts and figures, they were essentially popular in character. In the main, they were expressive of what is now being done and what could and should be done, rather than

RAILROAD MEN WATCH THEIR STEPS FOR WEEK

Complete details for staging "No-Accident Week," June 22 to 28, inclusive, have been decided upon by the safety representatives of railroads in the Central Western region, according to announcement from the offices of the Railroad Administration.

H. A. Adams, regional supervisor of safety, has conferred with about seventy safety officials of the various lines, the meeting having been held in his office in the Burlington Building.

It develops that the roads in this jurisdiction have, in the aggregate, approximately three hundred and five thousand (305,000) employees and that each employee is going to be asked to individually do his utmost during a period of seven days to keep from being injured himself, or of being the cause of injuring a fellow employee.

Bulletins, rallies, moving picture exhibits of an educational nature, personal appeals and many other forms of getting into close touch with all employees will be utilized, and it is estimated that before June 22 there will be few, if any, railroad workers in the Central Western region who will not be "Watching His Step" and avoiding personal injury.

This movement, covering as it does a vast territory and affecting an enormous population of high-class industrial workers, is said to be causing unusual interest in every city and town in the West.

The "No-Accident Week" was determined upon by Hale Holden, regional director of railroads, who believes that the cause of safety among railroad men and the public generally may receive a material impetus as a result of it.

A soldier, anxious to be home, writing from somewhere in France, says, "We've paid our debt to Lafayette, now who in hell do we owe?"

on administration methods, though these were discussed very well in one or two instances. Being a relatively small conference, there was more than the usual opportunity for those interested in similar problems to talk them over informally.

CANADIAN INDIANS OF TODAY AND YESTERDAY

This photograph shows the striking contrast in the North American Indian of yesterday and today. The younger men in uniform are members of the Canadian expeditionary forces; the older men typify the Indian of yesterday, with one paleface among them for sake of fraternity. The older men tilled the soil while the younger men fought for their country.

CRYSTAL SPOT DANCE

An innovation will be introduced by the Red Men at their dance, which is announced for Saturday evening, June 28. The dance will be known as the "Crystal Spot," and prizes will be awarded by a system of lucky numbers for those who are on a certain numbered spot on the floor when the winning numbers are announced.

The dancing parties of this lodge are always carefully planned and well conducted and a crowded house is expected to greet Markgraf's orchestra when the strains of music for the first dance attract the dancers to the floor.

Sheer Blouses in Russian Style

The Russian blouse has many admirers whose allegiance never fails, and every time a new interpretation of it appears on the horizon of fashion's world they give it a heartfelt welcome. Just now Russian blouses are arriving in considerable force, made of sheer fabrics and of all the supple, lightweight silks that insure flowing lines. Beginning with fine net and laces the blouse proceeds through crepe georgette and crepe de chine to silk jersey and satins that have the same softness and to the new weaves in silk that belong to the tricolette family. In all of these it proves graceful and fascinating.

Leaving out all the others and considering only the enchanting models shown in crepe georgette, we find both the plain and figured varieties used and that the charm of this beautiful fabric goes far in itself toward making the success of the blouses. This is illustrated by the two models shown in the picture for both are simply designed. A simulated vest, set in with a piping of satin, and two folds of satin about its skirt tell the brief story of decorations on the blouse of figured georgette. It is fastened at the front with small, round satin-covered buttons, set close together, and has a sash of heavy satin ribbon finished with silk fringe. The blouse has a small turnover collar and may be buttoned up to the throat, or left open, as pictured.

The blouse of plain georgette at the right of the picture is embellished with narrow embroidered bands. The skirt portion is uneven in length, being long at the left side and sloping upward all the way round, so that it is quite short across the back. This blouse is worn over a satin skirt with drapery that corresponds by being longer at the left than at the right side and its sleeves are finished by cuffs of the same satin. The narrow girdle is made of the georgette.

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO GIRL IS MAKING GOOD

In a letter to The Enterprise, A. L. Lessemann, secretary of Heald's Business College, San Francisco, pays a high compliment to the progress which is being made by Miss Bruno of South San Francisco in her work at that institution.

Mr. Lessemann said, in part: "Miss Bruno is making very fine progress. It is fair, and in order, to state that her grades and standing are highly complimentary to her and her future success assured."

EXPERIENCE SOCIAL WILL BE HELD NEXT THURSDAY

The "Experience Social," at which each guest will contribute a dollar which she has personally earned and relate the method by which it was earned, for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. ## News of the County

CONSTABLE LANDINI STABBED AT COLMA

Constable S. A. Landini of Daly City was stabbed in the left leg while he was attempting to separate two men fighting with knives at an Italian picnic at Colma Sunday.

James Batteaglia, 1336 Grant avenue, San Francisco, was stabbed three times in the abdomen and is in a critical condition. Batteaglia was stabbed by Frank Damante, 1326 Kearny street, San Francisco, following an argument as to who was to drive a hired automobile to the metropolis.

Constable Landini tried to subdue the fighting men. Batteaglia, it is alleged, turned on the police official and knifed him in the calf of the leg.

In taking the weapon from Batteaglia, Constable Landini broke Batteaglia's right wrist. Batteaglia and Damante were taken to the Daly City jail and charged with assault.

BURGLAR SUSPECT HAS A THREE-TIME PRISON RECORD

George Sheridan, alias Harry Nelson, alias Frank Nelson, who is being held in the county jail in Redwood City for the numerous burglaries which have occurred from time to time in San Mateo, Burlingame and Hillsborough, is a three-time State prison term, according to information received by the local police. Nelson spent two terms in Folsom and one in San Quentin, besides being confined twice in Oakland on charges of forgery and burglary. He was arrested two weeks ago by Chief of Police Thomas F. Burke. His preliminary trial was held before City Recorder C. M. Morse in San Mateo on Tuesday and he was bound over to the Superior Court.

A number of relatives and friends from Redwood City and San Francisco attended the funeral, which was held Monday morning from her late residence. The interment was in Calvary Cemetery, San Jose.

TELEPHONE COMPANY MUST RETURN TAX TO COUNTY

Through the efforts and vigilance of County Purchasing Agent Ernest Werder, the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company will return all the moneys collected as war taxes from the county since October 3, 1917. The company has charged 5 cents on each charge of 15 cents or over since the enforcement of the act in 1917, and Werder's contention that the county was exempt was sustained this week. This means the return to the county of a very considerable sum.

Eldridge P. Merrill, the three-year-old son of G. B. Merrill, one of the owners of the City Meat Market on Main street, Redwood City, was painfully injured about the face and head Saturday evening, when he fell from the top of a log near his home in Redwood Highlands. The accident occurred while the boy was out walking with his grandfather and older brother. It was feared at first that the lad's skull had been fractured, but an examination by Dr. Grogory showed that he was suffering from severe cuts and abrasions about the face and head.

BURGLARS FOOLED.

While Mrs. George Weymouth of 312 South H street, San Mateo, was visiting with neighbors Monday afternoon a burglar entered her home and ransacked every room. There is a big cast in the Boy Scout play.

NET OF LAW CLOSES ON COBURN SLAYER

Arrest of Murderer of Aged Woman
Is Expected Hourly; Evidence
Nearly Complete.

District Attorney Franklin Swart states that he has circumstantial evidence against the slayer of aged Mrs. Coburn, who was found with her head battered in at her lonely home in Pescadero on June 3.

"The whole plan of the murder is being cleared before us," said the District Attorney. "The man that killed Mrs. Coburn planned the crime with the idea that suspicion would be fixed on Wallace Coburn, the imbecile stepson, who was found with the body of the woman."

"We have circumstantial evidence against the slayer. But it would be unwise to make an arrest without sufficient evidence to convict."

Swart is now investigating a report by Attorney Archibald Treat of San Francisco that Jack Bennett and Robert Rowes, Pescadero ranchers, were offered $5000 in 1910 to kill Loren Coburn and his wife. The tender, according to Treat, came from persons interested in the disposition of the estate of the Coburns. At that time Treat defended Loren Coburn in his incompetency proceedings.

The police are investigating the report from the Gardner Sanitarium at Belmont, where Wallace Coburn is confined, that the demented stepson of the slain woman has been repeatedly muttering the past few days threats against a well-known resident of the coastside. According to the reports, the threats are particularly directed against Ressler E. Steele, a wealthy ranch owner of the Steele district below Pescadero.

UNKNOWN MAN FOUND DEAD.

The body of an unidentified man, about 50 years of age, was found lying alongside of the railroad track just south of the Southern Pacific depot in Menlo Park Saturday afternoon. The remains were removed to the Crowe undertaking parlors in Redwood City by Deputy Coroner W. A. Crowell and an inquest held Monday morning. The verdict of the jury was that the deceased came to his death from natural causes, presumably heart disease. There was nothing on the body to identify the man.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

(By Raymond Spangler.)

The entertainment for the eighth grades last Friday was a success. The sophomore class met the guests at the junction and escorted them to the High School, where the seniors took charge. The morning was taken up by the interschool track meet, which was won by the class from Daly City. The freshmen had charge of the ice cream, served at noon. The afternoon was the juniors' part of the program, superintending the entertainments. The first offering was the Spanish play, written and acted by the members of the class. Printed programs with a synopsis in English were circulated. The play was considered a success unanimously. The next on the program was the Freshie skit, taken from a theme written by one of the class for English. This also was good. Charlie Hein and his harem, consisting of Miss Beatrice Elkerenkotter, Miss Miriam Moses, Miss Sylvia Doak and Miss Margaret Carmody, followed. The next was a farce comedy, "The Coon Town Vampire," in which Reese Lloyd was the vampire and Darrel Dart and Raymond Spangler were rivals for her hand.

A special meeting of the student body was held on Tuesday for the nomination of officers. The following were nominated:

Darrel Dart, president; Miss Beatrice Elkerenkotter, vice-president; Miss Margaret Carmody, vice-president; Miss Bernice Holbrook, secretary; Miss Helen Dunbaugh, treasurer; James McMills, athletic manager; Raymond Spangler, P. A. L. delegate; Reese Lloyd and Raymond Spangler, yell leaders.

The seniors are preparing for the senior ball, and report that all indications point to a good and financially successful annual.

CLAIMS WIFE DECLARED LOVE FOR ANOTHER MAN

Carl Anderson, whose home is on Grand avenue, and his wife, Maybel G. Anderson, have come to the parting of the ways in the matrimonial road. In a complaint filed in the Superior Court at Redwood City this week by the husband, he alleges that his wife has told him on several occasions that she was in love with another man. The complaint further stipulates that she made frequent trips away from home with him, one of them being to the San Joaquin valley, during which time the towns of Modesto and Stockton were visited, the wife remaining away for several days. The allegation that his wife dined frequently at French restaurants with the unnamed co-respondent also appears in Anderson's complaint.

Judge John F. Davis is attorney for Anderson. The couple were married in San Francisco on August 3, 1916.

USE OF COUNTY FUNDS IN WET FIGHT ILLEGAL

The Registrar of Voters of Los Angeles county asked A. J. Hill, county counsel, whether he could legally receive the referendum petition against the ratification of the prohibition amendment. A copy of Mr. Hill's opinion has been received at the State headquarters of the W. C. T. U. of California in San Francisco.

It closes with these words: "We, therefore, advise you that you have no duty to perform in checking such proposed referendum petition, and that the expenditure of county funds in so doing would be illegal."

Mr. Hill says that the legislatures of Ohio, New Jersey and New York have each attempted to rescind the action of a previous session of the legislature ratifying an amendment, and that Congress would not allow them to recede. He also says: "The power given to the two houses of the legislature of this State to ratify amendments of the Federal Constitution is derived from the Constitution of the United States itself, and not from the State or the people of the State, and, therefore, neither the State nor the people of the State can limit or abridge that power in any manner."

DALY CITY MERCHANTS TRIMMED BY BEARS

Mayrose Butters Fail to Keep Date and Substitute Team Is Taken on by Locals.

The Mayrose Butters, scheduled to meet the South City Bears on Sunday on the Southside Playground, failed to put in an appearance, and the Daly City Merchants got the deluded idea that they would take on the locals for a romp. They did, and were handed a trimming for their trouble by an 8-4 score.

No particularly spectacular plays marked the progress of the game. Al Maderas, by rapping the spheroid hither and yon, kept the crowd on tiptoes, gave the Daly City twirler gooseflesh, and put pep a-plenty into his playmates each time he appeared with his trusty willow. Four hits out of five times up, one a homer, was not a bad day's work for Al.

The Merchants tried to start a June clearance in the ninth and hammered a hard line drive in the direction of Castro, who pulled it down for an out.

This coming Sunday the Bears will travel to the college town of Berkeley, where they will play the Berkeley Commercial Club on the San Pablo grounds. First batter up scheduled for 2:30.
